Irregularities Laid to Aide of McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reports it has found irregularities in the handling of accounts in the office of an aide to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The entire case has been turned over to the Justice Department's Criminal Division for study.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said Friday that the irregularities had occurred in the Budget and Finance Branch in the office of McNamara's administrative assistant. It named no individual as being involved.

The Budget and Finance Branch has been headed since 1952 by John A. Wylie, 57. He has been on sick leave since Nov. 1.

The Pentagon also acknowledged irregularities first had been noticed during a routine audit last fall. It said the irregularities had involved "failure to follow established Department of Defense accounting procedures."

Asked if Wylie had gone on leave voluntarily, the Pentagon replied: "When the irregularities were discovered, he went on annual leave, but on presentation of a doctor's certificate the character of his leave was changed to sick leave."

Wylie's annual salary is $17,500.

The Defense Department declined to give any details of the probe.

"Since the individual involved will be processed in accordance with applicable statutes and civil service regulations," it said, "it is not appropriate to release further information at this time."

The Justice Department also declined comment except to acknowledge that the case had been turned over to the Criminal Division for study.

The matter came to light when the Defense Department revealed that McNamara had reorganized his office "to provide tighter supervision" over such internal funds as expense accounts.

The post of administrative assistant to the secretary, held by J. R. Loftis, was abolished. It was made plain that Loftis was not involved.

Johnson Stayed After the Ball

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson stayed until after the ball was over and only a rollicking polka drove him perspiring from the dance floor.

It was a party in honor of British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and his wife on their last night in town, but no one appeared to enjoy it more than the host.

The First Family invited 136 guests to the formal state dinner Thursday night and asked 200 more in for dancing afterward in the East Ballroom.

The prime minister joined the dancers but left early, at 10:40 p.m.

Johnson paused to see his guests to the door, then returned to the dancing, hardly missing a number and often switching partners in mid-dance.

He finally retired to the upstairs family quarters, taking along a group of guests.

The evening climaxed a two-day meeting between the president and prime minister.

Johnson Gals Miss Beatles

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 8,000 screaming Beatle fans turned out Tuesday night to hear the mop-haired British singers, but the teen-aged Johnson girls were not among them.

The White House press office said today that Lynda Bird Johnson, 18, after attending the diplomatic reception Tuesday night, got in some study. Lucy Baines Johnson, 16, stayed home "to hit the books," a spokesman said.

Dog Tossed in Hole, Took 6 Days to Die

By WILLIAM MORAN

BARRE, Vt. (AP) — Police are seeking whoever bound and gagged a pet collie dog and left it to die in a hole. The dog's misery lasted six days.

"It makes you sick just to think of it," said Mrs. John P. Tomasi, whose daughter, Connie, 21, owned the dog.

Pacer was the dog's name. It vanished last Thursday. The family worried because it never did that before.

But Pacer wasn't very far away.

Four neighborhood youngsters found the dog Wednesday in a wooded lot within 300 feet of the Tomasi house.

The 2-year-old dog was in a three-foot hole. Its legs were tightly bound with twine.

A string also was tied tightly around its snout, making it impossible to bark.

Brush was thrown over the hole to prevent anyone from finding the dog.

Police helped the youngsters carry the dog home.

Tomasi, 14, bathed the dog's wounds as Connie and Mrs. Tomasi tried to comfort Pacer. But Pacer was dying.

A veterinarian convinced the family Pacer should be put to sleep.

Pacer held on to life only long enough to say "goodbye" to the Tomasi family.

Proposals Soybeans Are Conflicting

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has received conflicting recommendations from two national farm organizations on the level of price supports for the 1964 soybean crop. Soybeans have become one of the top income-makers for farmers.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has written Freeman urging a reduction in supports from the 1963 crop level of $2.25 a bushel. But the National Farmers Union also has written the secretary asking that he raise the supports to $2.50, effective immediately, which means for 1963 crop soybeans still in farmers' hands.

Since Freeman took over in 1961, he has raised the supports from $1.85 to the present level. In most of the recent years, producer prices have averaged above the support levels, reflecting an expanding domestic and export demand.

The secretary is expected to make a decision soon.

The Farm Bureau said that the soybean market had proven its ability to raise producer prices above supports whenever demand and supply conditions warranted.

It added, however, that recent developments in the industry indicate that it would not be in the interest of producers to increase supports this year. It said increased stocks of soybean oil have operated to reduce processor margins, with the result that some crushing mills are closing down or reducing their operations. An increase in supports, it argued, could aggravate this situation. Furthermore, it said, recent market developments and trends indicate that the demand for soybeans may not be as great as had been expected earlier.

But the Farmers Union said processors "have stubbornly held down" their purchases and operations in an effort to persuade growers that the soybean market outlook is not favorable and that they should sell their soybeans at prevailing prices.

The Farmers Union said it appears the nation will need a larger crop this year than last. An increase in supports, it said, would give producers "needed bargaining power both in terms of the 1963 and 1964 crops."

Reds Allowed to Talk With Defector

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) —The U.S. government is granting asylum to Soviet secret police defector Yuri I. Nosenko in a case still carrying overtones of a spy thriller.

The State Department unraveled some of the mystery with a pair of announcements Friday. In the first U.S. comment since last Monday's disclosure that Nosenko, who had disappeared from the Soviet disarmament delegation at Geneva Feb. 4, had asked for political asylum in America, press officer Richard I. Phillips revealed that:

1. Nosenko now is in Washington, though his exact whereabouts remains a secret.

2. The Russians demanded an interview with Nosenko in a note Wednesday, and were granted it Friday. A Soviet Embassy representative talked to Nosenko for less than an hour, and Nosenko "reconfirmed his desire for asylum."

3. A Swiss Embassy representative also questioned Nosenko separately for less than an hour and got the same answer. A State Department representative sat in on both interrogations.

4. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko called in U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler in Moscow and delivered a stiff oral protest to what Gromyko called "improper behavior" by the United States in the case.

But the Russians have not accused the United States of kidnapping and have not threatened to pull out of the disarmament conference at Geneva.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman confirmed the interview with Nosenko but declined comment. The Swiss Embassy also acknowledged having seen Nosenko and said its representative had been told by the Russian that he wanted refuge in the United States.

Phillips said the United States is "prepared to give him asylum" and had sent the Soviet Union a note replying to their Wednesday inquiry "as to the manner in which Mr. Nosenko presented himself to U.S. authorities."

The State Department spokesman said there would be no further announcement, and he declined to say when Nosenko might be surfaced to public view.

Still under wraps were how Nosenko defected, how he got to the United States, and what secrets he might have passed on to U.S. intelligence.

From the fuss Moscow has made over his disappearance there was speculation that the West had gained a notable prize in the continuing undercover contest of the cold war.

Nosenko, 36, was ostensibly a low-ranking member of the Soviet delegation at the disarmament parley. Actually, according to U.S. sources he is a staff officer of the Soviet KGB secret police apparatus.

This presumably would put him in a position to know about the workings of the secret police setup and the Soviet strategy at the Geneva conference.

A Timely Reminder You Have 'Gotta Have a Heart' in the Middle of Heart Month

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

Let's have a little heart to heart talk.

Oh, I know yesterday was the day it is generally accepted that the hearts we love come first. But this is not intended as a "belated Valentine."

Instead, it is a timely reminder in the middle of Heart Month that medical scientists who have "Heart" as their cause place hearts first every day of the year, not just February 14. For thousands of youngsters as well as adults afflicted with heart disease this is good news. Many heart defects in children can be repaired through surgery. And rheumatic fever, one of the leading cripplers of young hearts, can now be prevented.

Each time a satellite makes a turn around the earth it reminds us that nothing is impossible. Today's dream of conquering heart disease can become tomorrow's reality through medical research. Much has been learned about such medical mysteries as "blue babies" and open heart surgery, but many more questions remain, thus far, unanswered.

Since 1950 the Arkansas Heart Association has allocated $285,964.31 for research. Of this amount, $162,020.07 has been spent on research within the state and $123,944.24 has been spent on national research projects. In 1955 the Heart Association partially underwrote the cost of research in open heart surgery at the U of A Medical Center. By 1958 open heart surgery center, where charges are based entirely upon the ability of the individual to pay, thereby reducing the total cost to the family.

This research, and many more phases as well, would be of little value until its benefits become available to the physician in private practice. For that reason the Heart Association distributes monthly, bi-monthly, and quarterly publications to physicians so that they may stay abreast of the latest techniques in treatment. By the same token professional material is distributed to nurses and dietetic personnel. The Heart Association also provides speakers, films, film strips and literature to colleges, high schools and elementary schools and interested civic groups and individuals.

The heart is the strongest muscle in your body, and the strength or muscle of any organization such as the Heart Association is in its personnel. The Heart Association does not employ any professional fund raisers, and materials purchased for the exclusive purposes of fund raising are charged in their entirety to Fund Raising. In Arkansas one office is maintained by the Heart Association and the staff consists of the Executive Director, two Field Representatives, and two Secretaries.

A local Heart Fund Drive will get under way on February 20 and will be climaxed on Heart Sunday, February 23. Bob Moers will head the Heart Sunday campaign, and more information about this will be issued next week, according to Joe Rooker, Hempstead County chairman of the 1964 Heart Fund Drive.

"You've Gotta Have Heart" is more than a song title. It's the literal, physical truth. While hearts are often the special concern of songwriters, hearts — and especially healthy hearts — should be the concern of all of us.

He called Spicer a credit to the party and the state, and said arguments like the one within the Arkansas GOP "usually are only disagreements about how best to build a two party system."

Rockefeller said Spicer had agreed to the hiring of the field men, but no money was collected in the party for the purpose, "so I pay them myself."

He also said he was responsible for Spicer being state chairman. Wallace Townsend of Little Rock, past GOP National Committeeman, said at the news conference that Rockefeller had been asked to be GOP committeeman, and had not tried to control the party.

State GOP Rank Split Apparently

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Widely divergent views within the Arkansas Republican Party were obvious Thursday night as the state GOP marked Lincoln's birthday in widely separated places.

Winthrop Rockefeller and his host were at Fayetteville.

William L. Spicer and his backers were in Hot Springs.

Rockefeller, GOP national committeeman, and Spicer, state chairman, are not seeing eye to eye. The dispute between them, on several key issues, threatens to split the party.

At a news conference prior to a fund-raising dinner in Fayetteville, Rockefeller said he wanted "to get some things straight."

He said he was not pushing his brother, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, for the GOP presidential nomination. His interest was in the party in Arkansas, he said.

Spicer told some 300 Republicans at a dinner in the resort city who are considering running.

Spicer recently lambasted Rockefeller's hiring of four men to work for the party at the precinct and county level, saying they would boost Nelson Rockefeller for the nomination.

Rockefeller said at the news conference he would not "dignify lies" that say he wants to take over the party. The field men are to work for the party, only, and not his brother's candidacy, Rockefeller said.

"There are two philosophies in the state," he said. "One that just wants to nominate one candidate for national office. The other philosophy is that the party must be built from the grass level. This is my philosophy."

Paul O'Donnell of Dallas, chairman of the National Goldwater for President Committee, urged support of Goldwater this year while speaking at the Hot Springs meeting.

"I make no bones about it," he said. "I think Goldwater is the man who can give us Reality. It is good to be here with the fifth column Democrats, the far right-wing Republicans and the 'Old Mossbacks.'"

During the power struggle in the power, several Rockefeller friends have branded Spicer's activities as those of a "fifth column Democrat."

"These are the people who will carry Arkansas over the top in 1964 if we have the proper candidates," Spicer said.

Spicer is a friend and ally of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who also seeks the GOP presidential nomination.

There is strong speculation that Winthrop Rockefeller will run for governor this year, although he has declined to say so (and did it again Thursday night). Spicer says he knows of two other "top notch Republican" candidates to win the election.

O'Donnell refused to take sides in the Spicer-Rockefeller battle.

He called Spicer a credit to the party and the state, and said arguments like the one within the Arkansas GOP "usually are only disagreements about how best to build a two party system."

Rockefeller said Spicer had agreed to the hiring of the field men, but no money was collected in the party for the purpose, "so I pay them myself."

He also said he was responsible for Spicer being state chairman. Wallace Townsend of Little Rock, past GOP National Committeeman, said at the news conference that Rockefeller had been asked to be GOP committeeman, and had not tried to control the party.

Rep. Robert F. Ellsworth, R-Kan., attend the Fayetteville dinner and assailed President Johnson as "incapable of the leadership we need today."

The increase in NAACP membership has been due to "atrocities against Negroes" such as the murder of NAACP leader Evers in Jackson, Miss., and the Birmingham church bombing that killed four girls, he said.

U.S. Case in Hoffa Trial Is Completed

By GAVIN SCOTT

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The government completed its case against James R. Hoffa today on the last day of the fourth week of his jury-lampering trial.

Special prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville rested the government case at 10:14 a.m., after presenting Albert J. Gasdor, a court reporter from Washington, D.C., as his final witness.

Gasdor was the reporter at Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville, and simply certified a statement by the judge that a juror was excused at the start of the 1962 trial because he reported a $10,000 bribe offer.

The Nashville judge declined to appear as a government witness against Hoffa at this trial.

NAACP Finds Negroes Can Vote

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas has not tried to keep the Negro from voting in recent years and only their apathy keeps them from exercising their franchise, an official of the NAACP said Thursday.

Alfred Baker Lewis, 67, of Greenwich, Conn., said 8,756 Negroes were added to the voting lists in Arkansas during a registration drive.

Lewis, a white man, is treasurer of the NAACP and has been a member of its board of directors for 20 years. He is touring Southern states to promote Negro voter registration.

The organization increased its membership by 29 per cent to 515,000 last year and income reached a record $1.5 million, Lewis said.

"But we spent more than this," he said. "Money for bail bonds for arrested demonstrators hit us heavily. We put up $250,000 in bonds in Mississippi alone."

Lewis will go to Hot Springs Saturday, then to Louisiana. Lewis said he believes the majority of Negroes will vote for President Johnson against any Republican candidate this year, but that majority will be greater if Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is the GOP nominee.

Johnson is "emotionally committed" to support civil rights, Lewis said. "And in this case political realism and emotional commitment coincide."

The increase in NAACP membership has been due to "atrocities against Negroes" such as the murder of NAACP leader Evers in Jackson, Miss., and the Birmingham church bombing that killed four girls, he said.

Says Russians Build Cuba Bases

MEXICO CITY (AP) — New Soviet military bases are being built in Cuba's eastern Oriente Province, a leading anti-Castro group reported Monday.

Angel Gonzalez, delegate of the Cuban Student Revolutionary Directorate, said installations are being erected around Santiago de Cuba, Palma Soriano, Nipe Bay, Minas de Frio, Antillas and Guantanamo, site of the U.S. naval base.

Farmer Goes Berserk, Kills 4 Wounds 2

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A slender young farmhand, believed armed with a shotgun, was being sought in the southeastern Ohio hills near here today in connection with a shooting that left four members of a farm family dead and two others wounded.

Athens County Sheriff Harold Shields said all available deputies and volunteers were combing the rugged terrain for Rudy Zamora, 22, a former Texas mental patient said to be of Mexican descent.

He apparently fled into the night in freezing weather clad only in a polo shirt and dungarees, the sheriff said.

Deputies were called to the two-story farm home about six miles west of here shortly after 7 p.m. Friday after one of the wounded victims, Patricia Wildman, 22, made her way to the home of a neighbor, Glenn McDaniel.

Danny Pierce, 6, nephew of Patricia, also was wounded and escaped. Danny had been shot with a .22-caliber rifle, all the others with a shotgun.

Officers who entered the Wildman home found the bodies of W. M. Wildman, 57; his wife, Mildred, 60; their son, Eugene, 14; and Geneva Pierce, about 26, the dead couple's widowed daughter.

Also found were Dean, 2, and David Pierce, 3, sons of Mrs. Pierce, who had not been harmed.

Mrs. Pierce's husband, Richard, died of a heart attack a month ago while Danny, the son wounded, was with him in the family car.

Patricia Wildman, who with Danny was admitted to Shelling Arms Hospital here, was quoted by T. E. McDaniels as having said Zamora had wielded the shotgun.

She suggested no motive, but the sheriff said he understood from relatives that Zamora had been trying to collect from the family some money he claimed he was owed for work on the farm.

Castro Dealt Self Out of U.S. Dollars

EDITOR'S NOTE — Edwin Tetlow, a British correspondent, spent six days at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo after Cuba cut off the water supply. American newsmen since have been prevented by the government from going to the base and Tetlow was flown out Tuesday to Jamaica.

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Fidel Castro only pinpricked the Americans but dealt himself out of precious U.S. dollars with his water cutoff of the naval base at Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba.

Water facilities at the U.S. base were almost back to normal only seven days after Castro turned off the taps in retaliation for the seizure of Cuban fishermen charged with fishing inside Florida waters.

By improvisation and with abundant help from Jamaica, the Americans now have enough water for everything except washing cars, watering lawns or wasteful uses. Abandoned was the strict rationing that gave them water only three times a day for periods of one hour each in the first days of the crisis.

Castro's action deprived him of $14,000 a month under a contract for the water. The speed with which he had been cashing this regular American check testified to the pinch caused by the shortage of U.S. currency.

It appears that the Americans are not going to use Castro's water again even if it should be offered. The plan is to make the base completely self-sufficient.

Millions of gallons of water had been stored at Guantanamo for just such an emergency. The American community of 10,000 persons, including 2,500 women and children, was prepared when Castro cut the pipeline from the Yateras River five miles away.

More than a week's supply was on hand when the water was cut off and more water is on the way from Jamaica and the United States.

Japan Likely to Recognize Red China

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Japan's left wing and some businessmen are applying the pressure on the government to follow the example of France and recognize Red China.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, an Asian friend of the United States, refuses to be stampeded into abandoning his policy of nonrecognition. But he shows signs of wavering on some points.

In debate with the Socialists and Communists in Parliament Wednesday, Ikeda conceded that a new situation would arise should Red China be seated in the United Nations this fall as the sole representative of the Chinese people.

If that happens, Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira told Socialist Chichiro Hozumi, Japan will "normalize" its diplomatic relations with the mainland. He did not use the word recognition, however. This position leaves the government room to maneuver once the issue reaches the decision-making stage.

Ohira said Japan has yet to determine what policy to follow toward the question of seating the Red Chinese in the United Nations. This appeared to be a retreat from declarations that Japan and the United States would consult closely with the view of staving off Red Chinese entry.

Americans here and in Washington are reported to be reconciled to the likelihood that Japan cannot long resist if the dam breaks and a torrent of recognition by other states results from France's move.

"Drive around the block," I told her. "I want to see the lay of the land. I want to go in the back way and I don't want you parked out in front."
Turning the corner, we went past a soft-drink bottling plant and then a nondescript wrecking yard.

"We won't go in from this end," I said.
We went on back around the block. "Viva Juarez!" said the sign again. You could hear the jukebox from the highway.

"I'll have to go in from the front," I said. "There's a curtain behind the bar and the rooms are behind it. The safe thing for you now is not to stand still. Keep the car moving. If I'm not out and looking for you in 20 minutes make an anonymous call to the police and then beat it. If Solly's sent the redhead on, we're going traveling. You drive a couple of blocks south and then turn around and come back again. I'll join you from the other side of the street. Make sure it's me before you slow down enough for me to come aboard."

"Sure," Gail said, "synchronize your watches, men."
The place was jumping when I went inside. The jukebox was hollering and the couples on the floor were all in motion, mostly between ankle and head. I recognized my Aztec goddess of the duck-footed walk.

It was simple to move through that room, around the bar and under the curtains to the door. Inside the curtains I stood quietly and looked at the cook and the dishwasher in the kitchen. They looked at me.

I removed my hand from my belt and showed them the gun. Two pairs of hands went after sky hooks. "No," I said, "bring them down." I didn't know how long the music on the jukebox would last. I said to the cook, "Take towels and tie the boy up. One for his wrists, one for his ankles, and one for his mouth."

He moved quickly, using first the damp, stained towel he had had looped around his neck. Then he found others. He gagged the boy's mouth before he bound his feet. When he had finished with the dishwasher's ankles and still was bent over his job I hit him as gently as you can with a 45. He collapsed softly over the boy he had tied. I said to the frightened eyes over the gag, "I am sorry. It had to be done." Then I went quietly down the hall. There

I lifted his tied wrists and hung him over the edge of the open door. In a minute or two he would kick himself free. In a minute or two it wouldn't matter. I went out the back door and around the building. When I crossed the highway I could hear a siren and see the blinking red light off to the north. Blessed Gail swung from the curb. I climbed into the Jag without opening the door. "Take it to Tucson," I told her. "Solly's dead and so is the fat man who helped him take me for a ride. Somebody cut their throats before we arrived."

We were two blocks down the road when the police swung over in front of Viva Juarez! "Cool customer, too," I said. "He must have known we were coming. Who else could have called the police?"

WIVES TAKE NOTICE
By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I've given this letter a lot of thought. After reading your daily advice I feel impelled to express my views on young marriages. Mine was one — I 17, my husband 19. Twenty-one years later we're still young and very much in love.

Our son, now 17, graduates from high this year and plans going on to college next fall. Our daughter, 13, will just be starting high. Looking back, I would not change places with anyone yet when our children discuss young marriages with us, we speak against, never for them, though admitting that while any young marriage involves sacrificing a lot of good times, there are compensations.

My husband and I have remained sweethearts. He earns more than enough to enjoy life with our children and free time together, to take trips, to visit with our friends and still, when asked if I am for young marriages I say "No! No! No!" in a loud voice.

Too many young isn't being fair to yourself. The risks, as divorce statistics show, are far too great. Ours was a thousand to one chance. We were lucky enough to win. —Contented Wife and Mother

Dear Helen: For a long time I have deliberated how a woman must spend her life after she marries. First of all, she should be adult enough by her wedding day to cope with an entire new set of problems. Being married and rearing a family is not child's play. Secondly, she must completely dedicate her life and talents to her husband and later to her children.

The husband comes first. A wife should never hesitate to spend extra time with him, even at a sacrifice to housework and children. As a rule, when children come, a woman often foregoes her wifely duties to be a good mother. This is a mistake. She should never forget that her husband is the vital part of her life and as such, deserving of all the love and affectionate care she can give him. Instead of putting self first she should seek the best way, though sometimes the hardest for her, of pleasing him.

Once she repeats that marriage vows she dedicates herself to a new life with her husband as the constant object of her unswerving love and devotion. Giving wholly of herself, she will receive in like coin from husband and family. To understand her husband the more she should learn something about his work, hopes and dreams. As he proudly explains them to her, his ego will be inflated, thus giving him the strength and determination to press on and ever up. The home is her world, as his job is his. In turn he must learn about the participate in hers, for they share it together. If there are children both parents should take an active part in their upbringing. The children should have a sense of togetherness with their parents, a sharing of love.

Outflow Halt Takes Steam Off Interest

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Success in slowing the outflow of dollars to other lands is taking some of the steam out of the pressure building up for higher interest rates. These are regarded as a prime weapon in halting the drain on dollars and gold.

But some bankers say tighter money is sure to come anyway, even if the international problem eases. Others look for the official money managers to try to hold down the rate of expansion in the money supply later this year. This is sure to be fought by many in and out of government.

Involved are the two goals, often seemingly at odds—Saving the U.S. gold reserves and spurring the domestic economy to make more jobs.

Lining up in both government and banking circles are the advocates of easier money to finance a boom and on the other side those who think credit should be tightened to forestall inflation.

Some say that 1964 will see the fight against the deficit in U.S. payments with the rest of the world working even more at cross purposes with the economic boost expected from a federal income tax cut.

This would complicate the easy money debate. The official view, however, is that a booming economy here will attract foreign dollars and solve the gold problem — and hopefully furnish the needed jobs.

Interest rates were pushed up on short-term loans when so many dollars were going abroad to take advantage of higher yields there that the payments deficit was soaring and foreigners were using surplus dollars to buy U.S. gold. Higher rates here kept many of these dollars at home, and the gold loss slowed to a trickle.

In the last six months the balance of payments problem has eased notably. The deficit comes from foreigners spending less on American goods and for investment here than this government and private concerns spend abroad for imports, loans, grants, investment.

At mid-1963 the deficit had mounted to a $5-billion annual rate. At the end of the year it had fallen to an annual rate of $1.5 billion.

My husband and I were married five years ago last January 31st and are still very happy but, in discussing the subject the other night at dinner we decided that we were one of the few couples among our many friends who could say the same.

The bulk of my mail is from unhappy wives and husbands. What is the answer? I believe it lies in training men and women how to be satisfactory husbands and wives. Such a department should be part of the college curriculum. The training might even begin at the high school level. The main problem would be in finding qualified teachers!

Chronicle Also Revives Sience Tale

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jules Verne's "Around the World in 80 Days" was transformed from a science fiction adventure novel into an utterly delightful screen comedy, Wednesday night, CBS' "Chronicle" took another of his old science fiction tales and, in an attempt to

It tripped and fell over Verne's turn-of-the-century story about an attempt to shoot a party of scientists from a gigantic cannon to the moon. This could have been vastly amusing if played straight.

They couldn't leave well enough alone. The producers inserted endless clips from old Mack Sennett comedies. At one point they stitched together ancient mob and battle scenes in what was supposed to be a comedy history of the Civil War — and on Lincoln's Birthday, too.

Four young Englishmen from "Beyond the Fringe," a satirical Broadway revue, played the scientists in a broad comedy vein that disappeared with John Bunny and Fatty Arbuckle.

The actual moon shot came in the final minutes of the long, long hour. Viewers who had stayed with the program left the comedians stuck eternally in orbit around the moon.

Well, you can't expect a successful launching every time. Comedy is volatile and delicate and liable to explode in the experimenter's face.

ABC's distinguished television reporter at the Republican convention will be Dwight D. Eisenhower. The former president will serve as "on-the-air consultant" and participate in a number of programs, the network announced. He'll get VIP treatment—with a special studio on the same floor as his hotel suite. He will be assisted by James Hagerty, his former White House press aide but now an ABC vice president, and William H. Lawrence, an ABC correspondent who covered 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue as a newspaperman during the Eisenhower years.

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

The congregation of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Conway got a new sound in organ music recently.

Rev. Limuel Parks was making announcements during the service when he first heard the weird sound.

"I believe that airplane is coming through the organ speaker," he commented.
He was correct. A check showed that somehow the electric organ had picked up the roar of the engines of an airplane passing overhead and piped the sound into the church.

Tiny Smaron Ann Rhoden is fighting a weight battle at St. Anthony's hospital in Morrilton.

She was born Jan. 24—weighing one pound, 13 ounces.
Sharon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rhoden of Solgohachi in Conway County, has already graduated from the medicine dropper stage and started feeding from a bottle.

She will go home when she reaches five pounds.

Sgt. Bennie F. England and Sgt. Jack Bird of the Pine Bluff Arsenal doubled as game warden on the military installation recently and got a "double" in their traps.

They caught a 25 pound bobcat and a 36-pound wolf on the same morning.

G. W. Walker of Trumann may be able to claim a record in length of service as a Scoutmaster.

He has been with the program in the Trumann area for more than 21 years and will mark his 20th anniversary as a Scoutmaster April 1.

The national Scouting headquarters doesn't keep records on such service, but it recently reported it knew of no one who had served longer than Walker.

A Jonesboro basketball fan, who prefers anonymity, has learned not to turn off the radio just because her team is behind.

She did that when Arlington State College played the Arkansas State Indians, of whom she is a devout fan.

The Indians weren't on the right warpath that night and in the closing seconds, Arlington seemed to have the game wrapped up.

The Indians were four points behind with only 25 seconds left. Worse, Arlington had the ball.

Off went the radio.
But in the next quarter of a minute, Arlington made a floor error giving the Indians the ball. They scored, got the rebound and tied the game with five seconds left.

They won in overtime.

Boys Steal Painting of Honest Abe

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Police say two 13-year-old boys stole an oil painting of Abraham Lincoln and took it to school Wednesday — Lincoln's Birthday — in hope of getting good grades.

Suspicious teachers questioned the boys and learned the source of the 8x5 foot painting, valued at $30,000. Owner Sam Rudnick said it was brought West in covered wagon days.

The boys had carried it 12 blocks to school, right past the police station.

One boy was taken to Juvenile Home; the other released to his parents.

They didn't get a good grade.

mack of Spokane, Washington are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCormack and other relatives.

Bill Flanders, Musical Education Director of the First Baptist Church will be in Louisville Ky., this week for the First Conference of Southern Baptist Music Education Directors.

Ruben Reed of Nashville, formerly of Hope, is attending the manager Meeting of the J. A. West Co. being held this week in El Dorado.

Mrs. L. D. Barnum returned home Wednesday from a Texarkana Hospital. Her sister, Miss Bessie Snelzter of Prescott is visiting her here.

Bobcats Blast Smackover at Own Game

By CARTER HARDAGE Hope Star SportsWriter

Zeroing in for a shot at District Tourney host, the Bobcats last night ripped Smackover 61-45 from the free toss line in the Buck's new gym.

Tough as ever, the Smackover Buckaroos watched their final period lead turned against them by Paul Henley and Dan Jones at the charity line. Paul hit 6-8 and Dan 5-8 in their last Quarter free throws.

Hope started off strong, but never did they get more than five points in front. Smackover was always there, quick and aggressive, to take advantage of any weak spot. The Quarter score was 18-17, Bucks.

Both teams matched tallies in the Second Quarter, and the Cats still trailed 34-33 at the Half.

By becoming more adept under the boards, the Cats edged up the single point by which they trailed, and a 46-46 tie presented itself going into the final period of play.

It was point for point for most of the Quarter, with neither team ever more than 3 in the lead. With three minutes to go, Hope pulled out to 58-53 and tried to pull an icer.

The Bucks started getting hysterical, and before they could do anything Hope had pulled into a nine point advantage at the charity line and the game was cinched.

Scoring for Hope: Johnny Honeycutt was high with 15, Dan Jones had 14, Paul Henley and Bill Reinhardt had 12 each, Jerry Burnett 7, and Mike Archer 4.

The Bobkittens got the ax 41-37 in the evening's opener after failing to take advantage of their final quarter comeback. Hope had chances on two 1-1 shots, but couldn't quite make it. This was the second loss for the Juniors.

Danny Wilson was high with 15, Stannie Parris had 9, Dennis Turner 6, Mike Westbrook 3, and Richard Sallee 2.

Perry's Continues Winning Ways

Perry's Truck Stop basketball independents continued their winning streak Thursday night with a 102 to 43 victory over Lone Star of Texarkana.

Denton Hatfield hit for 22, Glen Calhoun 20, David Brown 15, Billy Mitchell 14 and 12 apiece for Wayne Lee and Brint Odom. D. James and S. James made 13 each and Barrett 7 for the losers.

Perry's will tangle with Red River Arsenal tonight in Jones Field House.

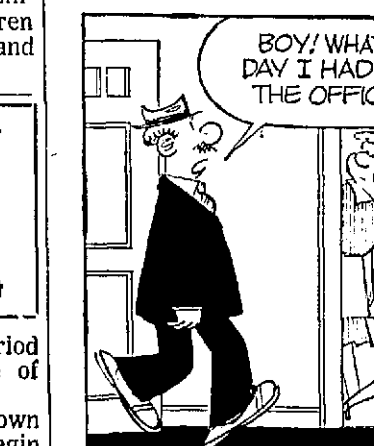

Faubus Reduces Some Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The two-year prison sentence of Dr. Richard M. Rutledge of Hot Springs, convicted last September of abortion, was reduced to 15 months Monday by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

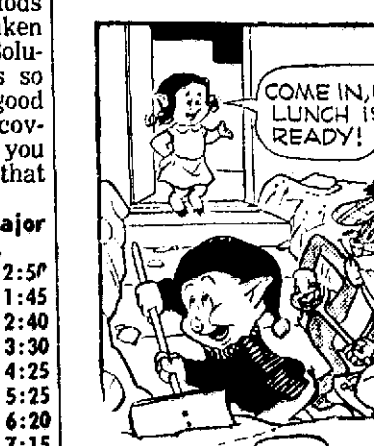

The shorter sentence made Rutledge eligible for parole sooner, and his release date was set for Feb. 17. State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs sought Rutledge's release because the doctor is ill.

Faubus also granted executive clemency to four others.

Camden Comes Here for a Game Tonight

By CARTER HARDAGE Hope Star SportsWriter

Tonight in Jones Field House the Bobcats bite off a big chunk of the Camden Panthers and see what they can do with them.

Now 5-3 in conference play, the Bobcats can start to smell the District crown. A loss to Camden could blight all hopes of getting any closer to it.

Meeting Hope once before this season, Camden took the match 76-63 at Camden. The Cats have yet to be beaten on their home court.

A Junior game begins at 7:00, and Senior match should be a few minutes after 8:00.

5 Men to Face Robbery Charges

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor E. W. Brockman said he would file robbery charges today against five men in connection with a $1,100 hold-up of a grocery store near Sherrill Wednesday.

Jefferson County authorities are holding Allen Nelson, 18; Ernest Lee Jackson, 21; Granville Anderson, 18; Alfred Pope, 32; and Theodis Clark, 24, all Negroes.

Four armed Negroes held up Pack's Grocery near Sherrill Wednesday, while a fifth man waited in a car.

Five men were apprehended minutes later seven miles south of Sherrill after a speedy manhunt by authorities in Jefferson and Lonoke counties. Sherrill is about 14 miles north of Pine Bluff.

Probers May Call Other Witnesses

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren commission may call one or possibly two new witnesses next week to build its growing pile of evidence on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Chief Justice Earl Warren told newsmen he did not know whether one would be a janitor who reportedly saw sharpshooter Lee Harvey Oswald en route to a sniper's hideaway shortly before the deadly rifle shots were fired in Dallas last Nov. 22.

Almost every great teacher of morals or of religion has said just what Jesus of Nazareth proclaimed. In every land and in every age it is the basic rule of good living; you cannot improve on it. Therefore do not try to change it, but live it. It will work in the experience of every man and of all men; it will make for happiness for each man and for each society of men; it works in the home, in the school, in the business, and in the nation and world.

What do you really wish that men would do to you? Let you alone and allow you to go your own way? Try it, and you will have a lonely world. There could be no homes, no neighborhoods, no nation.

Do you wish other men to work for you and for your success, while you forget their welfare? What sort of a world would that make, if all the rest did the same? Strife and war, with bitterness and suffering and sorrow for all. If you toil only for your own good and every other man works only for himself, we shall have a poor sort of a world. If we help no one and no one helps us, we shall be poor together; we shall turn the whole universe into one vast poorhouse.

Do you wish others to be friendly and kind and generous in their dealings with you? Then join with the rest in making all life friendly and kind and generous. Homes and neighborhoods and nations will find happiness and prosperity together.

Do you wish others to be honest and truthful and trustworthy? Match them with the same high virtues and all of life becomes trustful and free and dependable.

Do you wish others to be courteous and appreciative of you? Then form the habit of speaking with grace and with good words for their efforts and their deeds. You will bring the glow of happy inner satisfaction for them and they will give your life a sense of worth; each thus becomes important to the other.

Do you wish others to be ready to lend a hand when you have a hard task to do? Then form the habit of helpfulness and we build for mutual prosperity and for a cooperative society.

They who keep "the Golden Rule" will discover that it is the "rule of God"; God helps those who help each other; He is the Father of love and of saving helpfulness; it is the divine way. The "Golden Rule" is still golden.
